Screenshots of each member's contributions

This is a screenshot of our GitHub contributions history. This is however not accurate as to how the work was split. montythind (Montek) is shown here to have a small amount of lines added, but we have all worked equally on this project. On the flip side, a lot of the database work was done on yapa5475 (Yash)'s computer, so it shows that there are a lot of commits and lines that were added. We also see this in the number of commits we have for jwalin27 (Jwalin).

Montek and Yash worked on the database. We can say that we split the work done by Yash's commits between Montek and Yash. Shambhavi and Jwalin worked on the user interface. Likewise, we can say that we can split the commits done by Jwalin between both Shambhavi and Jwalin. We also used the doxygen auto documenting feature.
